

CANINE BREEDING SERVICES

WaBlusPets is here to assist responsible dog breeders.

We can help you with mating or AI. We also offer an ovulation testing service for detecting the best mating time for bitches. It is reduction of costly visits to the vet and it eliminates the stress related with repeated vet appointments. Our services are available 24/7.

ULTRASOUND PREGNANCY SCANNING.

We offer a canine and feline pregnancy scanning in Kinsley, near Pontefract (very close to the Kinsley Greyhound Track), West Yorkshire and the surrounding areas, using new veterinary grade ultrasound scanner. Service is performed by person fully trained and endorsed by Vet Image Solutions. There is no need to shave your Bitch / Queen (even very long haired) and the whole experience will be carried out in friendly and calm manner. You will get from us photos / videos of the scan and copy of signed disclaimer at the end of the service via Facebook Messenger as a keepsake! Scan can give an idea of estimate foetus numbers. The aim while scanning your Bitch / Queen is to give you an idea at the time, if she is pregnant. Any estimate on numbers is purely an estimate. The BVA now advise that vets DO NOT estimate the number of foetus present as it can be potentially dangerous. It is recommended not to advise the number of foetus and use this as a reliable guide for how many puppies your bitch is having. Please note: foetus can be absorbed and be tucked behind the ribs.

All services carried out are strictly confidential.
